

<https://www.ellenwhite.info/books/bkrmh-15.htm>

WHO IS ERASMIA GRIM?

by Eithne Keegan, MSN, RN

Excerpts taken from Francis Grim's book "On the Wings of the Wind"

Erasmia is a wonderful godly woman who exemplifies how a Christian should walk the walk.

She is the wife of our founder Francis Grim known to many as Uncle. She is one of seven children born into the Greek family of John George Frangakis and Margaret Frangakis. John a pioneer of the Mpumalanga Province, South Africa, and a well-read man who provided a fountain of knowledge to his seven children. He stressed that life was to be more than a mere march of time across the calendar and urged his children to strive for excellence in their achievement of their ideals and a great encourager to them. Is it any wonder that Erasmia encourages all who work or have worked alongside her through the years? Her mother Margaret was a warmhearted woman and a woman of prayer. Erasmia states "her prayers have sustained me through the passing seasons of my life and strengthened my walk with God".

John and Margaret provided a loving home for their seven children. The family had a unique bond of love, prayer, support, generosity, and service to the Lord.

At the age of seventeen God called Erasmia into fulltime service. She attended a meeting where Francis Grim the founder of HCFI (Hospital Christian Fellowship, now known internationally as Healthcare Christian Fellowship International) was preaching on Isaiah 6. A song that was being sung was "hear the Lord of harvest softly calling" She then listened to the words of Francis as he spoke on Isaiah 6:8, "Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying" Whom shall I send and who will go for us" (NIV), this confirmed her calling to serve the Lord. She received further assurance that the words of Isaiah 6:8 were directed to her when she returned home later that evening and read Luke 10:2 which states ... "The harvest is plentiful, but the workers are few. Ask the Lord of the harvest therefore, to send out workers into His harvest field" (NIV). Erasmia was not content to remain in the warmth and security of her parental home. She knew that God was calling her to serve him as a laborer in the fields.

When Erasmia told her mother of this sacred calling, she heard her mothers tender voice saying "I gave you to God at birth and prayed that He would call you into His service in His own time".

Continue to page 10...

“
For to me,
to live is Christ and to die is gain.

Philippians 1:21 (NIV)

Francis & Erasmia Grim

EDITOR'S CORNER

<https://goodnewshared.wordpress.com/2018/09/14/for-god-so-loved-the-world-that-he-gave-his-one-and-only-son/>

G

race and peace to all of you reading this magazine. As I reflect on the past four months, I am thankful that I am here in your midst writing this editors corner again. HCFI and HCFUSA are bound together as a team and we have a strong bond, through prayer. I was one of the recipients of this healing power of prayer from our prayer warriors.

On June 24th, I had a major heart event and ended up going through a triple bypass surgery. This was an unexpected glitch in my life. My first thought when I was going through this event was that God was calling me home to be with him! I have to say I had total peace with this thought. I prayed and said, "Thank you my Lord and savior for giving me the life I have here on earth". The reason I was so peaceful was because I knew without a shadow of a doubt that He would welcome me into His midst in heaven. Why - it was because I had given my life to him and had the assurance that God had sent his only son to die on the cross for those who believe in Him and will not perish and would have eternal life with Him. However, He was not ready for me yet. I made it through my triple bypass and an episode with Covid-19 and am now back on my feet again.

The next step after this setback was to help with our new North Carolina chapter of HCFUSA, in alignment with Rev. Dr. Rodney Hall, and the staff of Allegiant Church & Creative Ministries, and our new chapter coordinator Sandra Krantz of Clinton, North Carolina. We helped present the first conference for the HCFUSA NC chapter. The topic was "Creative Strategies using the Healing Hands of Hope through Prayer, Music, Art and Light".

We started with The McGregor Brothers (Manuel and Gershon), in worship and prayer. We followed that with Pastor Deborah Gray, Rev. Dr. Lydia Figueroa, and Don Dancer on prayer.

Dr. Larry Watts on 'Light from the Darkness' from a medical standpoint then Chaplain Jeff Grant on 'Let His light Shine' from a chaplain's point of view. The McGregor's spoke on 'How Music Helps with Healing'. Dr. Lydia spoke on "Created for More" and Dr. Ade Adebajo on the 'House that Prayer Built'. We rounded off with Sandra Krantz speaking on how she envisioned the new chapter and invited others to be part of the NC Chapter of HCFUSA. Dr. Diane Jenkins closed in prayer and the McGregor's regaled us in worship to end this wonderful conference. We were all blessed by God. Our emcees Segun, Jhundell, Ade and I kept the flow going throughout the program. We could not have done it without Eric, Michelle and Susan and team who ensured the connection and IT worked well. It was a blessing to serve the Lord and thank him for

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- WHO IS ERASMIA GRIM? by Eithne Keegan, MSN, RN 1
- WORKING ALONGSIDE AUNT ERASMIA by Angelina Sandy, MA Ed, RN, LM. 3
- THE FIRST LADY: ERASMIA by Aubrey Beauchamp 4
- REMEMBERING RALPH by Sandra Krantz 5
- KRISTINA'S 'EVELASTING HOPE' by Kristina Andersen, RN 6
- FAITH, NOT STONES by Dr. Dung Trinh 7
- HUMAN TRAFFICKING by Margie Whittaker, MSN, RN. 8
- THE HOUSE THAT PRAYER BUILT by Dr. Ade Adebajo 9
- FOUR STEPS TO GOD 11
- WHAT IS HCF ? 15
- UPCOMING EVENTS 16

healing me to continue the ministry of HCFUSA. May His light shine through all of you as you read this magazine dedicated to Him. All the Glory goes to him. 🙏

In His name, Blessings

Eithne
Eithne Keegan, MSN, RN

Light in a messenger's eyes brings joy to the heart, and good news gives health to the bones.

- Proverbs 15:30, NIV -

source: istockphoto.com/photo

WORKING ALONGSIDE AUNT ERASMIA

by Angelina Sandy, MA Education, RN, LM

My work in South Africa alongside Erasmia Grim, aka Aunt Erasmia, aka Mama

In 1995 I was invited by Erasmia Grim, the then International Promoter of HCF, to come to South Africa and serve as the International Literature/Media Coordinator. My first task was to work with her and the team in South Africa to put together the 60th Jubilee Edition of the International Heartbeat. – Lessons learned from Erasmia that accuracy is very important in everything you print. Check and double check the facts, proofs, and always have more than one person do the editing. We need to not only be accurate, but we need to remember that we are representing God and the fellowship.

Living and working at the International Office in Kempton Park, I had opportunities to observe Erasmia in the office, in the community dining room, and in home life. She was always well groomed, and her style was age appropriate. There was something stately about her. She also acted as a buffer for the very direct approach of Uncle Francis, and I always had access to her to get clarity about situations I did not understand.

In 1995-1996 the transition from typewriter to smart typewriter to computer began. Erasmia was a bit reluctant to embark on such a major change, but gradually embraced the transition. She was not afraid or ashamed to ask for help with the new techniques and she kept a small book in which she made notes of all the things she was learning. Up to the present time, she keeps that same notebook whenever she needs to learn something new about the computer. Lessons learned from Erasmia in this phase – take small steps, take notes that you can refer to later, and embrace the change. Don't let changes keep you back.

The HCFI Training department of which I am a part, was also housed at the HCF Base in Kempton Park, South Africa. One thing we were tasked with was to search for a more suitable base to house the training. Erasmia encouraged the team in their search and helped prepare the meticulous list of what to look for in the procurement of a building. At the top of the list was prayer. After each site visit, we would have discussions on the findings and suitability of the places we had seen. The final visit the team made was to a property in Fairleads, Benoni, where the present HCFI/HCF offices are located. When we returned with our report there was great joy, and without hesitancy Uncle Francis, Erasmia and the research team decided to see the owner and have another visit. It was amazing to watch her at work asking the right questions, probing the owner about relevant issues relating to the property, visiting every inch of the property, and looking at the possibility of changes which could be adapted to suit our purposes. The rest is history as she was hands-on in the purchase, redesigning, renovation and furnishing of the building which is now our headquarters.

Mr. & Mrs. Grim praying.

Erasmia has a passion for roses, and one picture which comes to mind is Erasmia and Maggie, our colleague, visiting the rose farm in South Africa to carefully select roses for the grounds at Hebron and then physically going on the compound and planting the roses with the help of Paulos, our gardener. She was also instrumental in the buying and planting of all the fruit trees, and each year she would ensure that they were pruned at the correct time. Working with her I learned that when you work with the team to get things done, you have an opportunity to teach, supervise and get the quality you are looking for.

While working with Erasmia I was given many opportunities to serve on conference planning teams in different capacities. This ensured my growth in planning

Turn to page 11...

THE FIRST LADY: ERAMSLIA

by Aubrey Beauchamp

Taking a jumbo jet from Los Angeles to London was easy. Long, but easy. Once in London and fighting jetlag, we had to search for the right trains. That was not easy. Yes, it would take three trains and one bus to bring us to our destination. It was August 1978, and I was invited to my first International Conference of Hospital Christian Fellowship. It would be held at the University of Aberystwyth in Wales.

Tired and dusty, we finally made it to Wales and were warmly welcomed by an HCF team in charge of dorm rooms. I was given a room on the 8th floor in a tall building. The elevator was small, barely big enough to hold me and my luggage. When the elevator stopped I found that the sequence of the room numbers was a mystery and for the rest of the conference, someone had to meet me at my room and lead me through a maze of narrow passageways to the elevator and from there to the dining hall.

After breakfast we were bused to the main buildings. As I entered the foyer of the large auditorium, I was overwhelmed by an international conglomerate of people. I stood still for a while, taking in the colorful scene in front of me. Scores of people from different countries, in different attires and speaking different languages. The main auditorium was enormous with a gigantic stage, adorned with flags from many nations and huge bouquets of exotic and stunningly beautiful flowers, brought in live from South Africa.

Someone led me to a large hall behind the auditorium. Many countries had brought large, beautifully designed displays which filled the entire wall. Behind the displays, someone pointed out, were 10 small booths for the interpreters during the various presentations. Ten? Wow! In a way, I was like a kid in a candy store, hardly able to take it all in.

Someone led me back to the main auditorium. The official program would begin that evening. Here, dozens of people were milling about, all busily occupied with one thing or another. I marveled at the organizational skills an event like this would need. Who would be able to keep everyone on track and, in this beehive, keep order?

It was then I was introduced to Erasmia Grim, the wife of HCF founder, Francis Grim. Erasmia greeted me with a warm and genuine smile. She was a beautiful lady with thick, black curly hair, her features showing off her Greek heritage, dressed elegantly, yet modestly. She held a clipboard in one hand and seemed to be in total control of all the activities around her and perfectly at ease. Someone you feel at home with the moment you meet, I thought.

Erasmia greeted me warmly, then gave me some information on the evening opening event which would feature a greeting from one delegate from each country. There were over one hundred. Would I represent the USA? Taken aback, I stammered yes and then Erasmia gently took me through some guidelines for addressing an international audience, many of them relying on interpreters to hear what was said. I also had to be brief – just a greeting. I nodded.

That ten-day Conference in Wales made a deep impression on me. It was years later that I discovered that Erasmia had been responsible for most of the details, as she had been for every international conference. To put an event like this together, with an international audience, is not for the faint hearted. How did she do it? To me she was 'The First Lady' of organizing events.

My admiration for this amazing lady only increased as I got to know her better. Not only was she a master organizer and a tremendous encourager, her first love was prayer. She was a prayer warrior and spent a lot of her time in a small prayer chapel, built on HCF premises in South Africa. The chapel is small with a thatched roof. Erasmia is there frequently to praise her Lord, get directions from Him and strength. She pours out her heart as she intercedes for people around the world in each country. For many years she has produced an international prayer letter, The Trumpet Call, for private and personal prayer, keeping all leaders around the world informed and inspired. Erasmia is 'The First Lady' of prayer.

Not only was she a master organizer and a tremendous encourager, her first love was prayer.

Turn to page 11...

REMEMBERING RALPH

by Sandra Krantz

If you have been a nurse, whether for a short time or a long time, you know there are patients that remain with you forever. Ralph was just such a patient.

I can't believe it has been 43 years since I met Ralph. He was a tall, thin, dirty-blonde 37-year-old male who fell from a scaffolding 3 stories up, fracturing his right forearm, his right leg, and multiple ribs. We were surprised that was all he had broken. A bruised and battered trauma victim in the coronary care unit stuck out like a sore thumb. He was comatose, on a ventilator, casted, abraded, and with multiple IV drips for heart irregularities, blood pressure instabilities, and lines to monitor his heart status from inside and outside that all needed to be managed.

Peggy, his wife, arrived soon after we had him settled. This was their first marriage. They had married in their late 30's about nine months before. She and I spoke of our hope in the Lord. I agreed to pray for them as I worked with them and each time the Lord brought them to mind. I prayed for them continually during that time.

For weeks, Ralph laid in a coma. I would whisper to him as I shaved him and changed his dressings, "You will not die, but live," paraphrasing Psalm 118:17. "Peggy has told me so much about you, I want to talk to you face to face." I would say.

Then Ralph woke up and said, "I remember your voice... I heard you telling me I would live." He thanked me because he said he didn't know at that time if he would live or not. He said it was like he was in a bubble or a dream. His voice was soft, his smile inviting, and his demeanor warm.

Peggy and I continued to pray, sometimes together, sometimes alone. Medications were titrated. One evening, he started having severe arrhythmias again. Ralph would lose consciousness; we would defibrillate him and he would awaken. Medications no longer were effective. He was shocked 143 times in eight hours. His chest was literally burned from all the electricity. Although cardiologists were there, the best one in my estimation was called in. He decided to place a pacemaker while in the coronary care unit, because Ralph's condition was so severe. It worked. Once he increased the rate to 90, all the irregularities stopped. Ralph continued to improve.

A heart catheterization was performed to see how his heart was healing. By-pass surgery was strongly recommended. Without the surgery, his life expectancy was quoted to be very low. Ralph and Peggy agreed to the surgery, and when his bloodwork returned to normal, the surgery was performed. Peggy, Ralph and I prayed prior to surgery. There was great peace in the room. Ralph did not return from the operating room. God called him home.

I was there when the surgeon told Peggy. To my utter amazement, she thanked us all for giving her the extra months with her beloved husband. She hugged me hard, kissed my cheek, and bid me goodbye.

"As long as there is life there is hope," Cicero wrote. I was reminded of David when Bathsheba's child was sick and dying. Intensely, he fasted and prayed. After the child died, he got up and went on with his life.

Peggy and Ralph spent months in the coronary care unit, side by side, hoping for his recovery. They smiled often. Each day was viewed as a gift from God. God gave them a transcending peace. He gave them a closeness I have rarely encountered.

source: istockphoto.com/photo

KRISTINA'S 'EVERLASTING HOPE'

by Kristina Andersen, RN

God continues to stretch my faith over the years. In 2008, I was given the opportunity to travel to the Philippines on my very first mission's trip. At the time, I didn't own a passport or even know where the Philippines was on the map, but I knew without a doubt that God was calling me to go. This started me on a more than ten-year-journey in learning to say "yes" to God and to trust Him, even when I didn't know the details or what to expect.

I went to the Philippines with both excitement and nervousness. I had always longed to deliver babies and I could hardly wait to experience the miracle of birth through volunteering in a Christian maternity clinic. In the three weeks I was there, only two women gave birth. At the time, I was a bit disappointed. However, as I reflected on my first experience, I could completely see God's hand in it. During this first trip, I was given the opportunity to reach out to children living in the dump site, which allowed me to begin to fall in love with the Filipino people, especially the children.

After graduating nursing school, I once again said "Yes" to God and went to the Philippines for six months serving in the same maternity clinic. My plan was to take these experiences and transfer them to a lifelong career of being a labor and delivery nurse in the USA. Little did I know that this truly was the start of a lifelong calling that God was placing in my heart to serve the Filipino people.

I returned to the States and in just one and a half years of working as a nurse, I once again said "Yes" to God and moved full-time to the Philippines in 2011. During the first few years, I spent time ministering to children and families living in communities without running water or electricity, many sleeping on dirt floors and eating rice as their primary source of nutrition. It was overwhelming for me, especially knowing how blessed I was to have the things that I needed easily provided for me. In reaching these communities, the one thing that continued to capture my heart was seeing these children laughing, playing, and smiling, despite their circumstances. It absolutely changed my perspective. I cherished the times I could play Duck Duck Goose or Patty-cake with these children and remind them how much Jesus loves them.

In 2014, I met a sweet ten-year-old boy diagnosed with Osteosarcoma of the knee. Over one month's time, his knee grew to the size of a basketball. It was shocking. This family not only needed the practical support of help with medical expenses and finding resources, but they desperately needed emotional and spiritual care. They were turning to so many things in desperation, including sacrificing chickens, believing bad spirits to be in their water well, and paying money they didn't have to seek alternative faith healers. It was my greatest desire to bring them the true hope that can only be found in the Lord. I knew that this family was not unique and that many families in the Philippines must be in similar situations and in great need of support and encouragement and most of all everlasting hope.

This sweet little boy passed away just three months after his diagnosis. It was such a difficult experience for our team in how to care for this child and provide the comfort that he needed (especially considering he passed away uncomfortably in his home). I knew God was calling me to do something more for children battling cancer. I met with his oncology doctor and asked: "What are the needs of children with cancer in Cebu?" She responded with urgency that there was no home to house these children and their families when they travel hours by boat or bus into Cebu City for treatment. I literally got goose bumps from head to toe and knew that this was going to be one of the biggest yesses of my life and that God was getting ready to stretch my faith beyond anything I could imagine!

I absolutely know that God brought this sweet little boy into my life to show me His plan and purpose for Everlasting HOPE in the Philippines! In early 2016, we began working with a handful of children with cancer by driving them to the hospital, supporting their medical needs, and providing nutrition. In May 2016, I encountered a little girl that had travelled 12 hours by boat to Cebu City. The family was spending money that they didn't have to stay in a tiny room without windows so they could be near the hospital. Gea had been in and out of the hospital over the previous months and was even in the ICU on her birthday. I felt the prompting of

Turn to page 12...

FAITH, NOT STONES

by Dr. Dung Trinh

I woke up this morning, looking forward to heading out to participate in a protest at a drug house. This is a known location where druggies come to use drugs. I spent quite a bit of time creating my protest banner last week - bought the paint, paintbrushes, banner paper on sale at Michael's craft store. Everything's packed in the trunk already—I usually do that the night before so I won't forget in a rush out of the house. I caught a glimpse of what was going on the TV while making breakfast. Those politicians on TV - they are all hypocrites! Especially the ones I don't like and on the other side of my political views. Their intentions are evil and they want to destroy this country I love.

I got into my car, backed out of the garage and took a left turn down the street. There's a girl walking to school by herself. She seems a bit young to walk to school on her own, especially in my neighborhood which I don't think is quite safe. Why is this girl walking by herself to school? What's wrong with her parents? Why don't they drop their daughter off at school instead? It's borderline child neglect to be letting your child walk to school by themselves at this day and age! I would never do that if I had a daughter! I got on the on-ramp to the freeway. Traffic is quite busy in the morning. Lots of traffic - I hate traffic! Oh, and as I'm trying to change lanes on the freeway, this little red corvette came out of nowhere and cut me off right in front of me! These people are "idiots" in the morning! Who taught them how to drive? I hate crazy drivers on the freeway - especially this little red corvette! The drive was long to our designated protest location - but after an hour's drive I finally pulled up to the drug house. I see my friends there waiting for me - it's good to see them! Opening up my car trunk, I pull out my protest banner and come to join our group of Christian protesters. We chant together out loud and in unison. My large banner proudly is displayed with the words written in bright red: "DRUG USERS GO TO HELL."----- This story is of course, all Fictional.

John 8:3-7, NIV

The teachers of the law and the Pharisees brought in a woman caught in adultery. They made her stand before the group."

It's human nature to judge. It's human nature to apply the standards of "The Law" to events we watch on TV, see on the street, while driving on the freeway, with folks at home, at work, and in our community.

I'm always reminded that when I'm quick to judge another, whether loudly or silently in my mind - I am casting a stone. Every day I cast stones - they are not physical stones, but the stones I cast are silent in my mind, my thoughts, and in my words. Jesus comes back to remind me - "Let any one of you who is without sin be the first to throw a stone".

Romans 2:1-3, NIV

"You, therefore, have no excuse, you who pass judgment on someone else, for at whatever point you judge another, you are condemning yourself, because you who pass judgment do the same things. Now we know that God's judgment against those who do such things is based on truth. So when you, a mere human being, pass judgment on them and yet do the same things, do you think you will escape God's judgment?"

Romans 3:19-20, NIV

"Now we know that whatever the law says, it says to those who are under the law, so that every mouth may be silenced and the whole world held accountable to God. Therefore no one will be declared righteous in God's sight by the works of the law; rather, through the law we become conscious of our sin."

knightheart.hubpages.com

Photo by: Laurie Zagon

Turn to page 12...

HUMAN TRAFFICKING: THE UNSEEN PANDEMIC

by Margie Whittaker, MSN, RN

Have you ever met a person who has been trafficked? If you are in healthcare, you probably have! Eighty eight percent of trafficked victims report they have had an interaction with a healthcare provider. Yet less than 1% have been identified. We are called to be the "light in the darkness and to be salt to the earth" (Matthew 5:13-16, NIV).

Human trafficking is a major source of darkness in the world. In the United States it is a $33 billion dollar business every year. It is second only to illegal drugs ($34 billion/annually). Human trafficking is a crime that deprives a person of their personal liberty and involves the use of force, fraud, or coercion for the purpose of carrying out labor services or commercial sex acts. Due to their age of consent, minors who are trafficked for the purpose of commercial sex are considered victims and the law does now require force, fraud, or coercion.

I have been blessed to volunteer with a faith based nonprofit organization, Run2Rescue. Their mission is to Reach, Rescue and Restore victims of sex trafficking. Reaching is bringing awareness of this evil in our midst. Rescue is saving the girls from the streets, from social services, from police services and from families who notify R2R of a young woman who is in need. Restore is the long term process that allows God to fully heal these young women from the unimaginable trauma and sin they have endured.

I was invited to be part of a team to care for young women who had been trafficked about 5 years ago. I participated in training and learned much about human trafficking. Even though my professional path was as a critical care/trauma RN I had much to learn. I found myself answering a call to become more involved with the girls themselves. I was invited to meet the young women/girls and provide for them unconditional acceptance and love. God has given me one very clear instruction in my life as a Christian, a wife, a mom, a grandma and as an RN: Love the person I put in front of you! Each girl I meet is unique and has come from a unique set of circumstances. Each one blesses me and changes me as I spend time with her. I spend a portion of each week with the girl/s who are in the part of the program where they are in a safe environment called The Gateway of Hope Home. The word of God is the basis for truth and a great place to start, so together we study the Bible. Learning the names and character of God is where we start and go on to study different books of the bible.

Sandra (fictitious name) is the most recent young woman to touch my heart. She had read, Redeeming Love by Francine Rivers, and when I asked her what book of the Bible we should study next she selected Hosea! Minor prophets are not easy for seasoned Christians to understand, but this lovely young woman has done an hour of homework each day to dig in to and understand the rich lessons we can learn from Hosea. I am blessed by her diligence, by her love of the LORD, by her desire to share the gospel with others. Sandra is a miracle who a short time ago was desiring to die by taking her own life and now she is God's chosen princess.

*"Whoever is wise, let him understand these things;
Whoever is discerning, let him know them.
For the ways of the LORD are right,
And the righteous will walk in them,
But transgressors will stumble in them."*

Hosea 14:9, ESV

As a healthcare providers, you will meet someone like my young friend. There are actions you can take and become more aware of this shadow life.

• Education

- Victims are often overlooked due to lack or education/awareness of the provider. Look for the national or local Human Trafficking Task Force through social services and law enforcement agencies or through the national hot line as they offer resources.
- Learn and recognize the signs of a trafficked victim.
- Create protocols for your organization (examples are available in literature or at Reclaim611.org website)

• Trauma Informed Care

- Remember victims have been in a trauma for a long time. They have repeatedly been victimized.
- They have established bonds with their trafficker

Turn to page 13...

THE HOUSE THAT PRAYER BUILT

by Dr. Ade Adebajo

Isaiah 56:7, NKJV

"Even them I will bring to My holy mountain and make them joyful in My house of prayer.

Their burnt offerings and their sacrifices will be accepted on My altar; For My house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations."

God declared that His house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations. Prayer is not something that is unique to any nation but is for all nations/peoples. Having travelled to and lived in different nations, I have observed people praying with varying degrees of earnestness and understanding and often pondered on why God chose to call His house a house of prayer.

When a house is being built there are some facts that we must consider and understand:

Ownership

The Lord declares that it is "My House" that is being built. He is the owner, builder and maker of all things (Hebrews 3:4). The owner of the house is the one that decides what the house is supposed to look like and how it is supposed to be built. It is to be His dwelling place, where He makes His home. There is a purpose for every single part of the house as decided by the owner of the house. If the understanding of ownership is not established, then there is a tendency for people to take on the responsibility of deciding and planning how things should be built which will not match what the owner had in mind.

The house that the Lord is building is us - His people - individually and corporately (Hebrews 3:6; 1 Corinthians 3:9). We must understand that we are not our own i.e. we don't belong to ourselves. We have been bought and paid for with a price - the precious blood of our Lord Jesus Christ. We cannot treat our lives like we belong to ourselves and are calling the shots on how our lives should be built up. Unless it is the Lord building the house, they that build it are laboring in vain (Psalms 127:1). They may build it but it is vain because it may not be according to the purpose and plan of the One who owns it all. Also, the owner is the one paying for the building. God has already made payment in full through the sacrifice of His Son Jesus Christ. The house is paid for in full and every resource necessary for completing the building has already been laid up. All we have to do is ask the Owner for what we need and He supplies it according to His riches in glory.

Without acknowledging who the owner is (by surrendering to Him) it is difficult to discern what we are supposed to be building or gain access to the resources we are to build with. This is why we must continue to preach the good news of our Lord Jesus so that people can come to the saving knowledge of Jesus Christ and of our loving and gracious Father who owns everything, including us.

Many years ago, I was building my life up as a young Physician and making seemingly great progress doing so. When I gave my life to Jesus and acknowledged His ownership/Lordship over my life I gradually began to discern His purpose for my life and what He wanted to build in and through me. This led to a change in the trajectory of my life as I transitioned from being a medical practitioner to become a minister of the gospel and missionary to many nations, helping to build God's house the way He had designed it for my life.

Plan

Hebrews 3:4, TPT

"Every house is built by someone, but God is the Designer and Builder of all things."

The builders that are engaged to help build a house all work together to ensure that the building is being done according to the design specifications and plans of the owner.

Likewise, we are co-laborers in this building project that is God's house. There are wise master builders like the Apostle Paul (1 Corinthians 3:10) that helped to lay the foundation of building our lives upon the Chief cornerstone who is Jesus. There are also the fivefold ministry gifts today (Ephesians 4:11-12) that help equip us for the work of building up the house of God - The Body of Christ. These builders cannot just decide to build based on their own desires or what they think it should look like. They build based on the plans of God accessible through the word and prayer (Acts 6:4).

Many times, we think we know how things are supposed to go and what they ought to look like. We lean on our understanding and experience in building up our lives, families, career, businesses etc. Ultimately, this often leads to confusion, chaos and maybe even calamity. The key to staying on track with the Owner to ensure that things are being built according to His will and have access to His help and the resources we need is ongoing communication through prayer.

A breakdown in communication often leads to confusion instead of clarity, conflict and competition instead of cooperation. Without communication, people begin to do what seems right in their own eyes. They are

Turn to page 14...

Continued from "Who is Erasmia. . ."

She stated that "had I told you of this prayer, you may have felt it your duty to obey but now you, yourself have heard His Appeal" "Whom shall I send?' My heart is full of joy".

In responding to God's call, she had a further dilemma, where shall I serve? She prayed and waited. Numerous proposals came in, regarding ministry and missions, but none appealed to her heart until she received a prayer letter from HCF. The letter stated "there was an urgent need for assistance in the HCF office". She felt a sense of peace and applied for the position. When she was interviewed one of the committee members questioned her youth. She asked, "can a girl of seventeen summers know the will of God for her life"? A senior member replied and stated "give her a chance to prove herself". She was accepted into the ministry. She then went through years of rigorous training, business college, office administration, the planning of conferences and hospital evangelism. She was given increasing responsibility in the organization of worldwide conferences until finally she became Francis Grim's personal secretary and after several years they fell in love, married and worked tirelessly together to serve the Lord. Erasmia is celebrating her 75th year in ministry. Her beloved Francis went home to be with the Lord November 1st, 2005.

The pages of history are turned to October 1946. In the HCFI archives there is a letter from a girl in her late teens in which she applied to join the Fellowship. One of the positive comments from a Senior Nursing Officer serving on the Executive Board at the time reads: "Regarding Erasmia Frangakis, it appears that she has earnestly sought the Lord's face in this matter and her testimony as to belonging to Him leaves no doubt. May the Lord bless her and keep her."

In Erasmia's words, "That is how I took the initial step into what has since become my life calling". She said, "Little did I know when I was called to serve in the world of health professionals in 1946 what lay in the hidden recesses of the years ahead. They were years of learning deep lessons of dependence upon God and with a trembling heart discovering the wonder of His Presence as we journeyed on together. I recall my period of training in the Fellowship, followed by studies in a Business College, then later the organizing of camps for nurses which absorbed hours of planning. In the ensuing years World Conferences rose to the fore and it was an honour for me to participate in arranging these in Rome, Austria, Wales, England, South Africa and the Philippines followed by Global Prayer gatherings in Singapore and Sri Lanka. Every step was a walk of faith in deep dependence upon God and finding Him to be utterly faithful. 'Sole Deo Gloria' remains the banner flying over all that now lies in history."

Here is a short summary of Erasmia's duties through her 75 years serving with HCFI.

1. Prayer ministry
2. International Prayer Coordinator and member of the GLAT (Global Action Team)
3. Coordinator of the Core Prayer team
4. Trumpet Call and Prayer Week Guide

6. Receiving prayer requests from around the world via e-mail, What's App and other social media
7. International Administrator
8. Hebron finances and International finances
9. Recording and filing of HCFI documents
10. Member of HMT (Hebron Management Team)
11. International Communication – formal and informal
12. Planning of international conferences 🌐

Eithne Keegan RN, MSN was born and raised in Ireland in a small village. She emigrated to the US on Dec 31st, 1977. She started her nurse training in Dublin, Ireland, and continued her nursing career in Orange County California, where she raised her daughter Nora. She accepted Jesus as her Lord and Savior and was baptized on her first mission trip to Kyiv, Ukraine May 2002.

Eithne is an RN, MSN, and an international missionary, teacher, speaker, and short story writer. She has worked in many aspects of Nursing such as administration, adult, pediatric nursing, prison nursing, education, and community health. She presently works as a Faith Based Community Health Advocate in a hospital in California.

Eithne helped start a school of Nursing in Northern Kenya and has led numerous mission trips around the globe as well as assisted in writing the best practices of medical missions. She is now the National Coordinator of Healthcare Christian Fellowship USA.

You can email Eithne at hcfusa53@gmail.com .

source: istockphoto.com/photo

Continued from "Working Alongside ..."

and leadership in a secured environment from being the chief hostess at a conference to managing a leadership summit. She ensured that the people working with her had opportunities to learn and grow in excellence. Sometimes she was very strong in her correction but the spirit behind her approach was for the personal development of the worker and the benefit of the work.

On a personal level, Erasmia was interested in my wellbeing and the wellbeing of the HCF family. She motivated and encouraged me when I enrolled in the Global University to complete my Bachelor's and Master's in Education and she was present at my graduation. Birthdays are a very special part of life at Hebron, and she takes time to celebrate with the staff. I have lived and worked closely with Erasmia for about 25 years and during that period she has been a colleague, a mentor, a mother, a prayer supporter, and a friend. She sets a great example to follow. 🙏

Angelina Sandy is from the Republic of Trinidad and Tobago where she was trained and worked as a Registered Nurse and Licensed Midwife. She is also a graduate of the Open Bible Institute of Theology of Trinidad and Tobago with a Diploma in Theology, and The Global University with a Master's in Education. Angelina served the Lord through the HCFI in Africa and presently resides in Trinidad. She is an international trainer with HCFI and the HCF Regional Representative for the Caribbean.

You can email Angelina at sandyangelina@hotmail.com

Continued from "The First Lady..."

Another gift Erasmia has is that of encouragement. Many times I've received cards or emails from her with a personal note of encouragement. She is modest in her response when those whom she has blessed, express their gratitude. To me Erasmia is also 'The First Lady' of encouragement.

This year, Erasmia Grim has given 75 years of her life to serve the ministry God called her to, when she was only 17. She's 'The First Lady' of us all and dearly loved and appreciated by untold people around the world.

I can hear her Savior someday say, "Well done, my faithful servant." 🙏

Aubrey Beauchamp (Retired President HCF USA) started a Bible study at San Clemente Hospital in 1972 which developed into HCF USA. She was born and survived the horrors of World War II in the Netherlands. She migrated to Indonesia for high school and furthered her career as a bush nurse in Sydney, Australia. She immigrated to the USA in 1960. She is a prolific writer, speaker, conference organizer, and Bible study developer/teacher. She authored the New Heart magazine which is now retired. Among one of her achievements was the Compassionate Care seminar for healthcare workers which is still in use today. She mentored many people including the current head of HCF USA. Although retired she leads a group called the Happy Hymn Singers.

You can email Aubrey at hcfusa@gmail.com

4 STEPS TO GOD

1 Remember GOD LOVES YOU

AND WANTS YOU TO EXPERIENCE
FORGIVENESS OF SIN AND ETERNAL LIFE
(John 3:16)

2 Recognize MAN IS A SINNER

BY NATURE AND PRACTICE AND IS THEREFORE GUILTY AND UNFIT FOR GOD'S PRESENCE
(Romans 3:23, Romans 6:23)

3 Realize that JESUS CHRIST

IS GOD'S ONLY PROVISION TO BRING YOU TO HIMSELF (Romans 5:8, 1 Peter 3:18)

4 Receive JESUS CHRIST

AS YOUR PERSONAL SAVIOR TO RECEIVE MEANS
TO TRUST, TO ACCEPT & TO WELCOME HIM
(John 1:12, Revelation 3:20)

SUGGESTED PRAYER

"Heavenly Father, I believe the Lord Jesus died on the cross in my place, taking the punishment for my sins. I agree with You that I am a sinner. I confess my sins and ask for Your forgiveness. Thanks You for Jesus' blood which takes away my sins. By faith I open my heart and receive Jesus Christ as my personal Lord and Savior. From now on, You take control of my life. Thank you Father for hearing me and giving me eternal life. In Jesus' name I pray. Amen."

Continued from "Kristina's Everlasting..."

the Lord to invite Gea and her mother to stay in my home. Gea came into my home malnourished, unable to walk, and could barely crack a smile. She left my home one and a half months later doing so much better-smiling, walking, laughing, and well-nourished physically and spiritually.

I met with my Filipino volunteer team, and we all agreed it was time to expand our outreach. I knew that if this could happen with one child, just think how many more children we could impact. Although we did not have the funds to immediately open a home in Cebu, we knew that we needed to pray, trust God, and begin to look for a place to rent in Cebu City that was near the hospitals, yet quiet and clean for children battling cancer. God directed us to the right place!

In July 2016, we took a huge leap of faith and opened our Everlasting HOPE Cebu Center! Over the past five years, we have been able to help more than 250 children with cancer, and their families too. I am forever grateful to the Lord for the amazing opportunity to walk alongside these children and families, to remind them that they are not alone and that there is always HOPE in Jesus.

God continues to remind me to trust Him and to say yes when He asks. It has not always been easy. I have doubted over the years, yet the one thing that always remains constant is that He is truly faithful. I just need to say "Yes," then trust God and let Him do the rest! 🙏

Kristina Andersen is the Executive Director and Founder of Everlasting Hope, Children's Cancer Mission. She was born and raised in Bothell, WA, just north of Seattle. After she lost both of her parents to cancer in 1998 and 2000, she felt the leading of the Lord to become a nurse. In 2008, while in Nursing school, she had the opportunity to go to the Philippines, which started her on a more than 10-year journey of serving Filipino children and their families.

As a Registered Nurse, she spent a few years in the USA as a mother-baby nurse as well as providing care to medically fragile children in their home. After moving to the Philippines in 2011, she found herself involved in various ministries including ministering to children and families living in a dump site, serving youth within her church, conducting home and hospital visitations, and coordinating a VBS Soccer Camp for children. In 2015, Kristina was given the opportunity to attend Philippine Healthcare Christian Fellowships three-month discipleship training. This training was pivotal in helping Kristina to take a leap of faith to open Everlasting HOPE Cebu's Home for Children with Cancer in 2016. Over the past five years, she and her team have been walked alongside more than 250 children and their families, bringing them the HOPE in Jesus!

You can email Kristina at kristina@everlastinghope.org .

Continued from "Faith, Not Stones..."

If I live by the Law and judge others by the Law, I am already convicted as a law breaker. The Law only exists to point out my need for a Savior.

I thank God that He has saved me not from what I can do for Him, but from what He has done for me through Jesus Christ. Salvation is by Faith alone, apart from the Law. For the Law can never save me.

Romans 3:21-24,28, NIV

"But now apart from the law the righteousness of God has been made known, to which the Law and the Prophets testify. This righteousness is given through faith in Jesus Christ to all who believe. There is no difference between Jew and Gentile, for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and all are justified freely by his grace through the redemption that came by Christ Jesus... For we maintain that a person is justified by faith apart from the works of the law."

John Courson states in his commentary "Justification is apart from the law. If you are trying to relate to the Father on the basis of your own goodness or devotion, your consistency or your Bible study, your do's and do not's - you'll never be justified. The law cannot justify you. It can only bring you to the realization that you are a sinner in need of a Savior".

Matthew 7:3-5 (NKJV) states, "And why do you look at the speck in your brother's eye, but do not consider the plank in your own eye? Or how can you say to your brother, 'Let me remove the speck from your eye, and look, a plank is in your own eye?' Hypocrite! First remove the plank from your own eye, and then you will see clearly to remove the speck from your brother's eye."

As Matthew shows us, we should not throw stones or judge others. We should follow Jesus's example as He is the only perfect person. 🙏

Dung Trinh, MD is the Chief Medical Officer of Astiva Health, Irvine Clinical Research, and holds leadership positions with multiple health care organizations in Orange County.

He is President of TongueOut.org, a 501(c) nonprofit organization dedicated to providing access to health care to the most vulnerable population in society including work in Vietnam, Haiti, Peru, and Mexico.

Dr. Trinh is a keynote speaker, best-selling author, and founder of HealthTalksOC.com, a platform to provide education and training focused on preventive health and wellness.

Dr. Trinh can be reached at iggy@tongueout.org

Continued from "Remembering Ralph"

God ordained Ralph's life and his death. God used creative medical strategies not yet in practice at the time to sustain his life. Prayers were powerful and heard by our Lord. Peggy came to visit us in the Coronary Care Unit on the day of Ralph's passing for the next few years. We will meet again.

What were the take-away messages I learned personally?

- ✓ Speak life to your patients in a coma. They may hear and believe you.
- ✓ Relationships with other Jesus' followers unite hearts despite all differences.
- ✓ God always knows best.

After 32 years as a hospital nurse and 15 years as a family nurse practitioner, I retired from my paid positions to care for my ailing husband. God is still in control. Prayer still works. Creative strategies are needed as my husband declines in front of me. Like Peggy, I am thankful for every minute I have with my Sweetheart.

I remember Ralph. 🙏

Sandra L. Krantz was born in Connellsville, PA. She has participated in Healthcare Christian Fellowship since 1986, as the director of the Fayetteville County Chapter having meetings in all the hospitals in the county bi-monthly until 1996.

Her nursing education began at the Lillian S. Kaufman School of Nursing as an RN in 1976, continued at Penn State University with a BSN in 1994, and concluded at Baylor University as a Family Nurse Practitioner in 2005.

She has done mission work with the youth in Toronto Canada, medical missions with Southwestern Medical School times three to Mexico, and orphanage physical/HIV/AIDS testing for a month in Uganda. Residing in Faison, NC since 2006, she has cared for the medically underserved and the military both at Camp Lejeune and Seymour Johnson. Retired in 2020, God rekindles the HCF flame to open a new NC Chapter.

You can email Sandra at hcfusanc@gmail.com .

Continued from "Human Trafficking... "

(could be family members, guardians, employers)

- Learn language of trafficking
- Advocate through legislative action
- Raise awareness to others

From the AMA Journal of Ethics:

"Health care professionals are moving to the forefront of efforts to prevent human trafficking and to address its harms through identification, trauma-informed care, and advocacy. Mandatory reporting laws—including careful incorporation of sex and labor trafficking into definitions of reportable child abuse—might facilitate the protection of trafficking victims and survivors. To achieve this goal, health care, child welfare, and law enforcement professionals must be trained in trafficking, trafficking victims and survivors must have access to trauma-informed care, and child welfare systems must have the necessary resources to provide meaningful prevention and protection. With measures in place to ensure that the risks of mandatory reporting laws are mitigated, health care professionals can assume the role of mandatory reporters of human trafficking while meeting their ethical obligation to "do no harm."

"The Spirit of the Sovereign LORD is on me, because the LORD has anointed me to proclaim good news to the poor. He has sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim freedom for the captives and release from darkness for the prisoners," 🙏

Isaiah 61:1, NIV

Margie graduated from nursing school in 1974, with a BSN and in 2000 an MSN. Margie has provided care for patients and families in critical care units with emphasis on trauma, neurosurgery, organ and tissue donation and palliative care. Margie's passion is for family centered care and advocating for patients in vulnerable populations. She is a nursing advocate for nurses in providing an optimal environment for them to practice their care. She completed a post graduate certificate in ethics and has provided direction for hospital-based Bioethics committees for over three decades.

Margie has worked locally at Mission Hospital, South Coast Community Hospital and San Clemente Hospital. She has had the opportunity to share God's love through her work with patients and staff as well as several medical missions to Eswatini (formerly Swaziland) in Africa and most recently working with young women who are recovering from human trafficking.

Margie enjoys her family of husband, kids, grandkids and many friends in the area. She continues to teach women's bible studies and loves sharing the Word of God with all!

You can email Margie at mwhitt@cox.net .

Continued from "The House..."

more focused on and preoccupied by what they are building so much so that they ignore or forget about the One they are building for. They are ready to do whatever it takes and use any means necessary to carry on what THEY are building. With continuous communication (Prayer) however, we can be in one mind with the Owner of the building, talking to him, asking Him questions, asking for wisdom and guidance and for understanding of what His will is so that we can execute it according to His plans.

Process

The process of building anything can be a very messy one. Things are not always going to go according to our plan and schedule neither will it be nice and tidy, clean, and neat. There are things to be dug up, rooted out that can be quite messy. There are building materials to be brought in cut into shape to be fitted etc. There are waiting periods for things to set before the next phase begins. There are people that must be in place and ready for the next phase of building. In the meantime, we are impatient, wondering what it is taking so long. Why does it seem like nothing is happening? Why is everywhere so messy and upside down? We generally do not like things to be messy and disorganized around us. We like things to go orderly, according to our plan and for it to be done NOW. When we see a mess, we right away try to straighten it out or cover it up but we may be interfering with what God is building. Maybe you are dealing with that right now - things look so messy around your life and it seems like it is taking forever for what you are expecting to happen.

Without a vision and focus on the result, it is easy to get disillusioned, discouraged, distracted in the process of building.

Let me encourage you not to be intimidated by messes or discouraged by delays. Messes are an indication that God is building something and is not through yet. There are things in our lives that are being dug up and rooted out because they will affect the integrity of what God is building. Like in the natural, this process is usually quite messy.

Also, delay does not always mean denial. It may mean God is allowing time for some things that are being put in you to "set" (like concrete) before the next stage can begin. Also, it often takes time for men and materials to be put in place.

Just keep on engaging God in prayer and trust in the wisdom, love, mercy and timing of the One who sees the end from the beginning. He makes all things beautiful in His time (Ecclesiastes 3:11).

We must understand that the building of God's house has been ongoing for millennia. It has not always been pretty, but it has continued, nevertheless. It has weathered the storms of wars, plagues, persecution, political and economic calamities, personal and national tragedies, and catastrophes etc. The builders have changed over time, but the project has continued till today. We are the ones privileged to be co-laboring with God in this end-time stage of the project.

Through all the mess and chaos, changes and transitions God has continued to unfold His plan and build His house, in no small part due to the prayers of His people, causing all things to work together for good for those who love God and are called according to His purpose.

Prayer is the key to maintaining a relationship with the Owner, communicating with Him, and understanding His plans and purposes, obtaining wisdom, help and resources for building our lives, families, careers, churches, communities, and nations.

Prayer also helps us to stay passionate about the building project, to persevere in the face of the challenges that we encounter in the world and the messes that are often created in the process. It helps us stay connected to God who is the source of the power we need to carry on the building of His house.

So let us continue to pray without ceasing. We are God's house - The House That Prayer Built. 🙏

Rev. Dr. Ade Adebajo, a former Medical Doctor, has been a missionary evangelist and bible teacher for over 20 years. He has been bearing the Name and reality of Jesus Christ to nations around the world, especially to the nation of India. He has been instrumental in taking the gospel to many unreached areas, establishing bible schools, and training and discipling thousands of ministers around the world.

Ade lives in Katy, Texas where he lives with his wife, Busola, and their three growing children.

Dr. Ade can be reached at ambassadeinternational15@gmail.com

Get
Dr. Ade's book
at

BookBaby BOOKSHOP

WHAT IS HCF ?

The Healthcare Christian Fellowship (HCF) is a non-profit interdenominational organization among caregivers.

In 1936, Francis Grim, a Christian businessman in South Africa, and his brother Paul visited their elderly father daily in a local hospital. During these visits they noticed that the patient's physical needs were well taken care of, but their spiritual needs were largely ignored.

Francis was alarmed and concerned about the lack of spiritual care. He realized that many patients pass through the healthcare systems of our world who do not pass through our churches.

Yet, when they are ill, they often want to reach out to God: A God they do not know. They need someone to teach them the Good News of Jesus' forgiveness, care, healing, joy and salvation.

He began to train a small group of student nurses how to share their faith with their patients and fellow workers. This was the beginning of what has now become Healthcare Christian Fellowship International (HCFI), a world-wide movement among all branches of healthcare, active in over 100 countries around the world. Go to www.hcfglobal.org for more information.

Doctrinal Basis

The Doctrinal Basis of HCFI shall consist of the essential beliefs of Biblical Christianity, including:

- The unity of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit in the Godhead.
- The person of our Lord Jesus Christ as very God and very Man, born of the virgin Mary, His real and sinless humanity, His atoning death, His bodily resurrection, and His ascension into Heaven.
- The Divine inspiration and supreme authority of the Holy Scripture in all matters of faith and conduct.
- The guilt and depravity of human nature in consequence of the Fall.
- The substitutionary death of our Lord Jesus Christ, and His resurrection, as the only way of salvation from sin through repentance and faith.
- The necessity for the new birth by the Holy Spirit and His indwelling in the believer for sanctification and service.
- The personal return of the Lord Jesus Christ and the judgment to come for the just and for the unjust.
- The resurrection of the body and eternal life.

- Heaven as a place of everlasting blessedness for all who have accepted the Lord Jesus Christ.

In brief, HCFI places a strong emphasis upon the Deity of Jesus Christ and His Atonement; regeneration by the Holy Spirit and His indwelling fullness in the believer for personal victory and fruitfulness; the supreme authority of the Scriptures and the importance of personal and group evangelism.

Healthcare Christian Fellowship, USA

Healthcare Christian Fellowship, USA (formerly Hospital Christian Fellowship) is the United States chapter of Healthcare Christian Fellowship International. It began in 1972 at a small hospital in San Clemente, California.

A nurse, Aubrey Beauchamp, started prayer meetings at her home. In time this small beginning became a national movement among Christian Caregivers. Aubrey has retired and Eithne Keegan has taken over the leadership of HCF USA. She can be reached at hcfusa53@gmail.com.

Our mission is to encourage and strengthen caregivers in their faith, workplace, and personal life, promoting Biblical principles in healthcare. We train caregivers to meet the spiritual needs of their patients and fellow workers.

You can also visit www.hcfusa.org for more resources and to know how to be part of what God is doing in the health fields of USA and beyond. 📖

Join us on YouTube and Facebook

Healthcare Christian Fellowship, USA

P.O. Box 3439, Laguna Hills CA 92654-3439

Phone: (949) 312-7284

UPCOMING EVENTS

NORTH AMERICAN PRAYER CONFERENCE

Hosted by HCF USA Houston chapter

March 10-11, 2022

Via Live & Zoom

Tune in to our website hcfusa.org for location & details.

Theme verse: Matthew 26:41, NIV

“Watch and pray so that you will not fall into temptation. The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak. “

NEXT HCF USA CONFERENCE

JUNE 2022

Details to be announced later

You may submit articles for editing and review for the next issue by

January 20th, 2022

to hcfusa53@gmail.com

Subscribe Here

or Email us at

hcfusa53@gmail.com

To subscribe to the magazine and support our ministry, a suggested donation of $25 /year would be greatly appreciated .

Christian Compassion Since 1972

Your Donations Help Us To Encourage Christians in Healthcare

Help us spread the compassionate message of Christ to healthcare professionals!

If you enjoyed our free trainings and other inspiring contents, please consider donating!

Donations are processed through PayPal and are 100% tax deductible.

Donate

Healthcare Christian Fellowship, USA
P.O. Box 3439, Laguna Hills CA 92654-3439
Phone: (949) 312-7284

www.hcfusa.org